EVERY COMMUNITY ON BRAND.

YOUR WHOLE PORTFOLIO.
One screen.

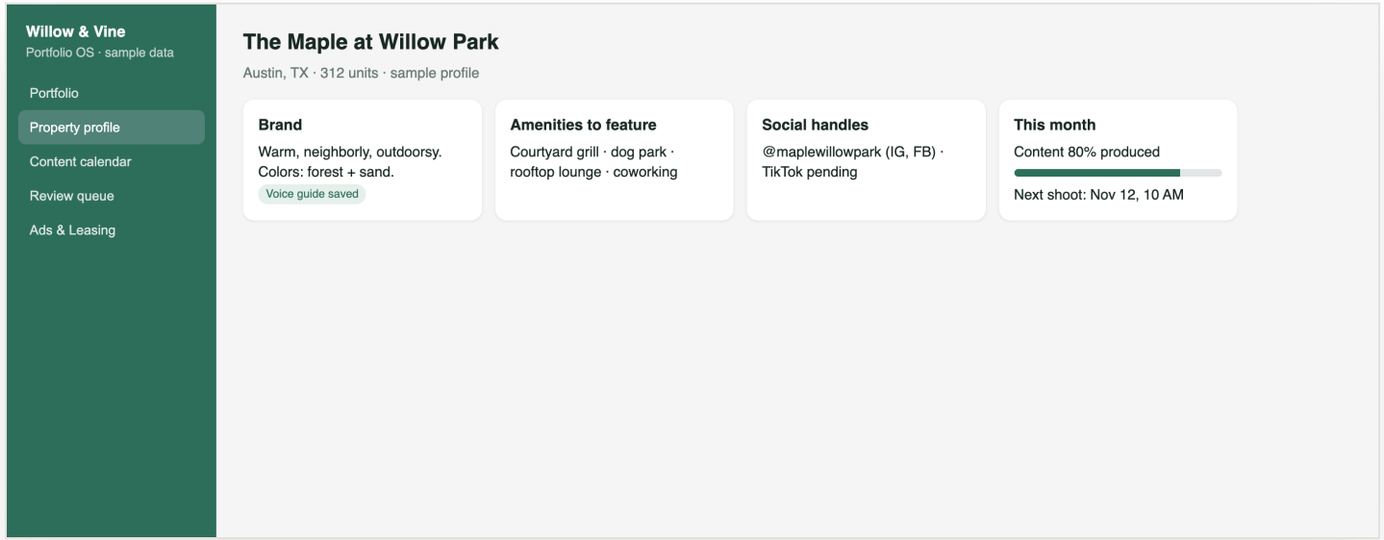

Every community you hand us lives in one dashboard: what is shot, what is scheduled, what is waiting on your approval, and what went live. Your regional team checks one place instead of chasing ten vendors.

EVERY COMMUNITY KEEPS ITS own voice.

Each property gets a branded profile: its colors, its tone of voice, the amenities worth featuring, its handles and its next shoot. Content is planned against that profile, so property three never sounds like property seven.

THE CAPTION MATCHES the photo.

01 We check it. Every post is reviewed with the photo and the caption side by side, so a pool caption never runs under a lobby photo.

02 You approve it. Your team sees the same view and approves or requests a change in one tap.

03 Then it posts. Nothing resident-facing goes live without that sign-off.

NOT AN AGENCY. THE WHOLE MARKETING operation.

We shoot, post and run ads for the communities in your portfolio, on one system, at one standard.

On-site teams already run leasing, maintenance and resident events. Social is the job that keeps sliding, because nobody on-site has three spare hours a week for it. That is the job we take off the plate.

We started as a production company in 2015 and built the rest around it, because the properties we shot kept asking who would run everything else. Crews shoot nationally; the team is based in South Florida.

GREAT AT ONE COMMUNITY.
Silent at the next.

Walk a ten-property portfolio and the split is usually the same: one or two communities with a feed someone loves, a handful posting leftovers from a leasing shoot two years ago, and a few not posting at all.

01

INCONSISTENT

Every community looks like a different company, because it is run by whoever has time that week, or nobody.

02

NO TIME ON-SITE

Leasing, maintenance and residents come first, every time. Social gets what is left, usually nothing.

03

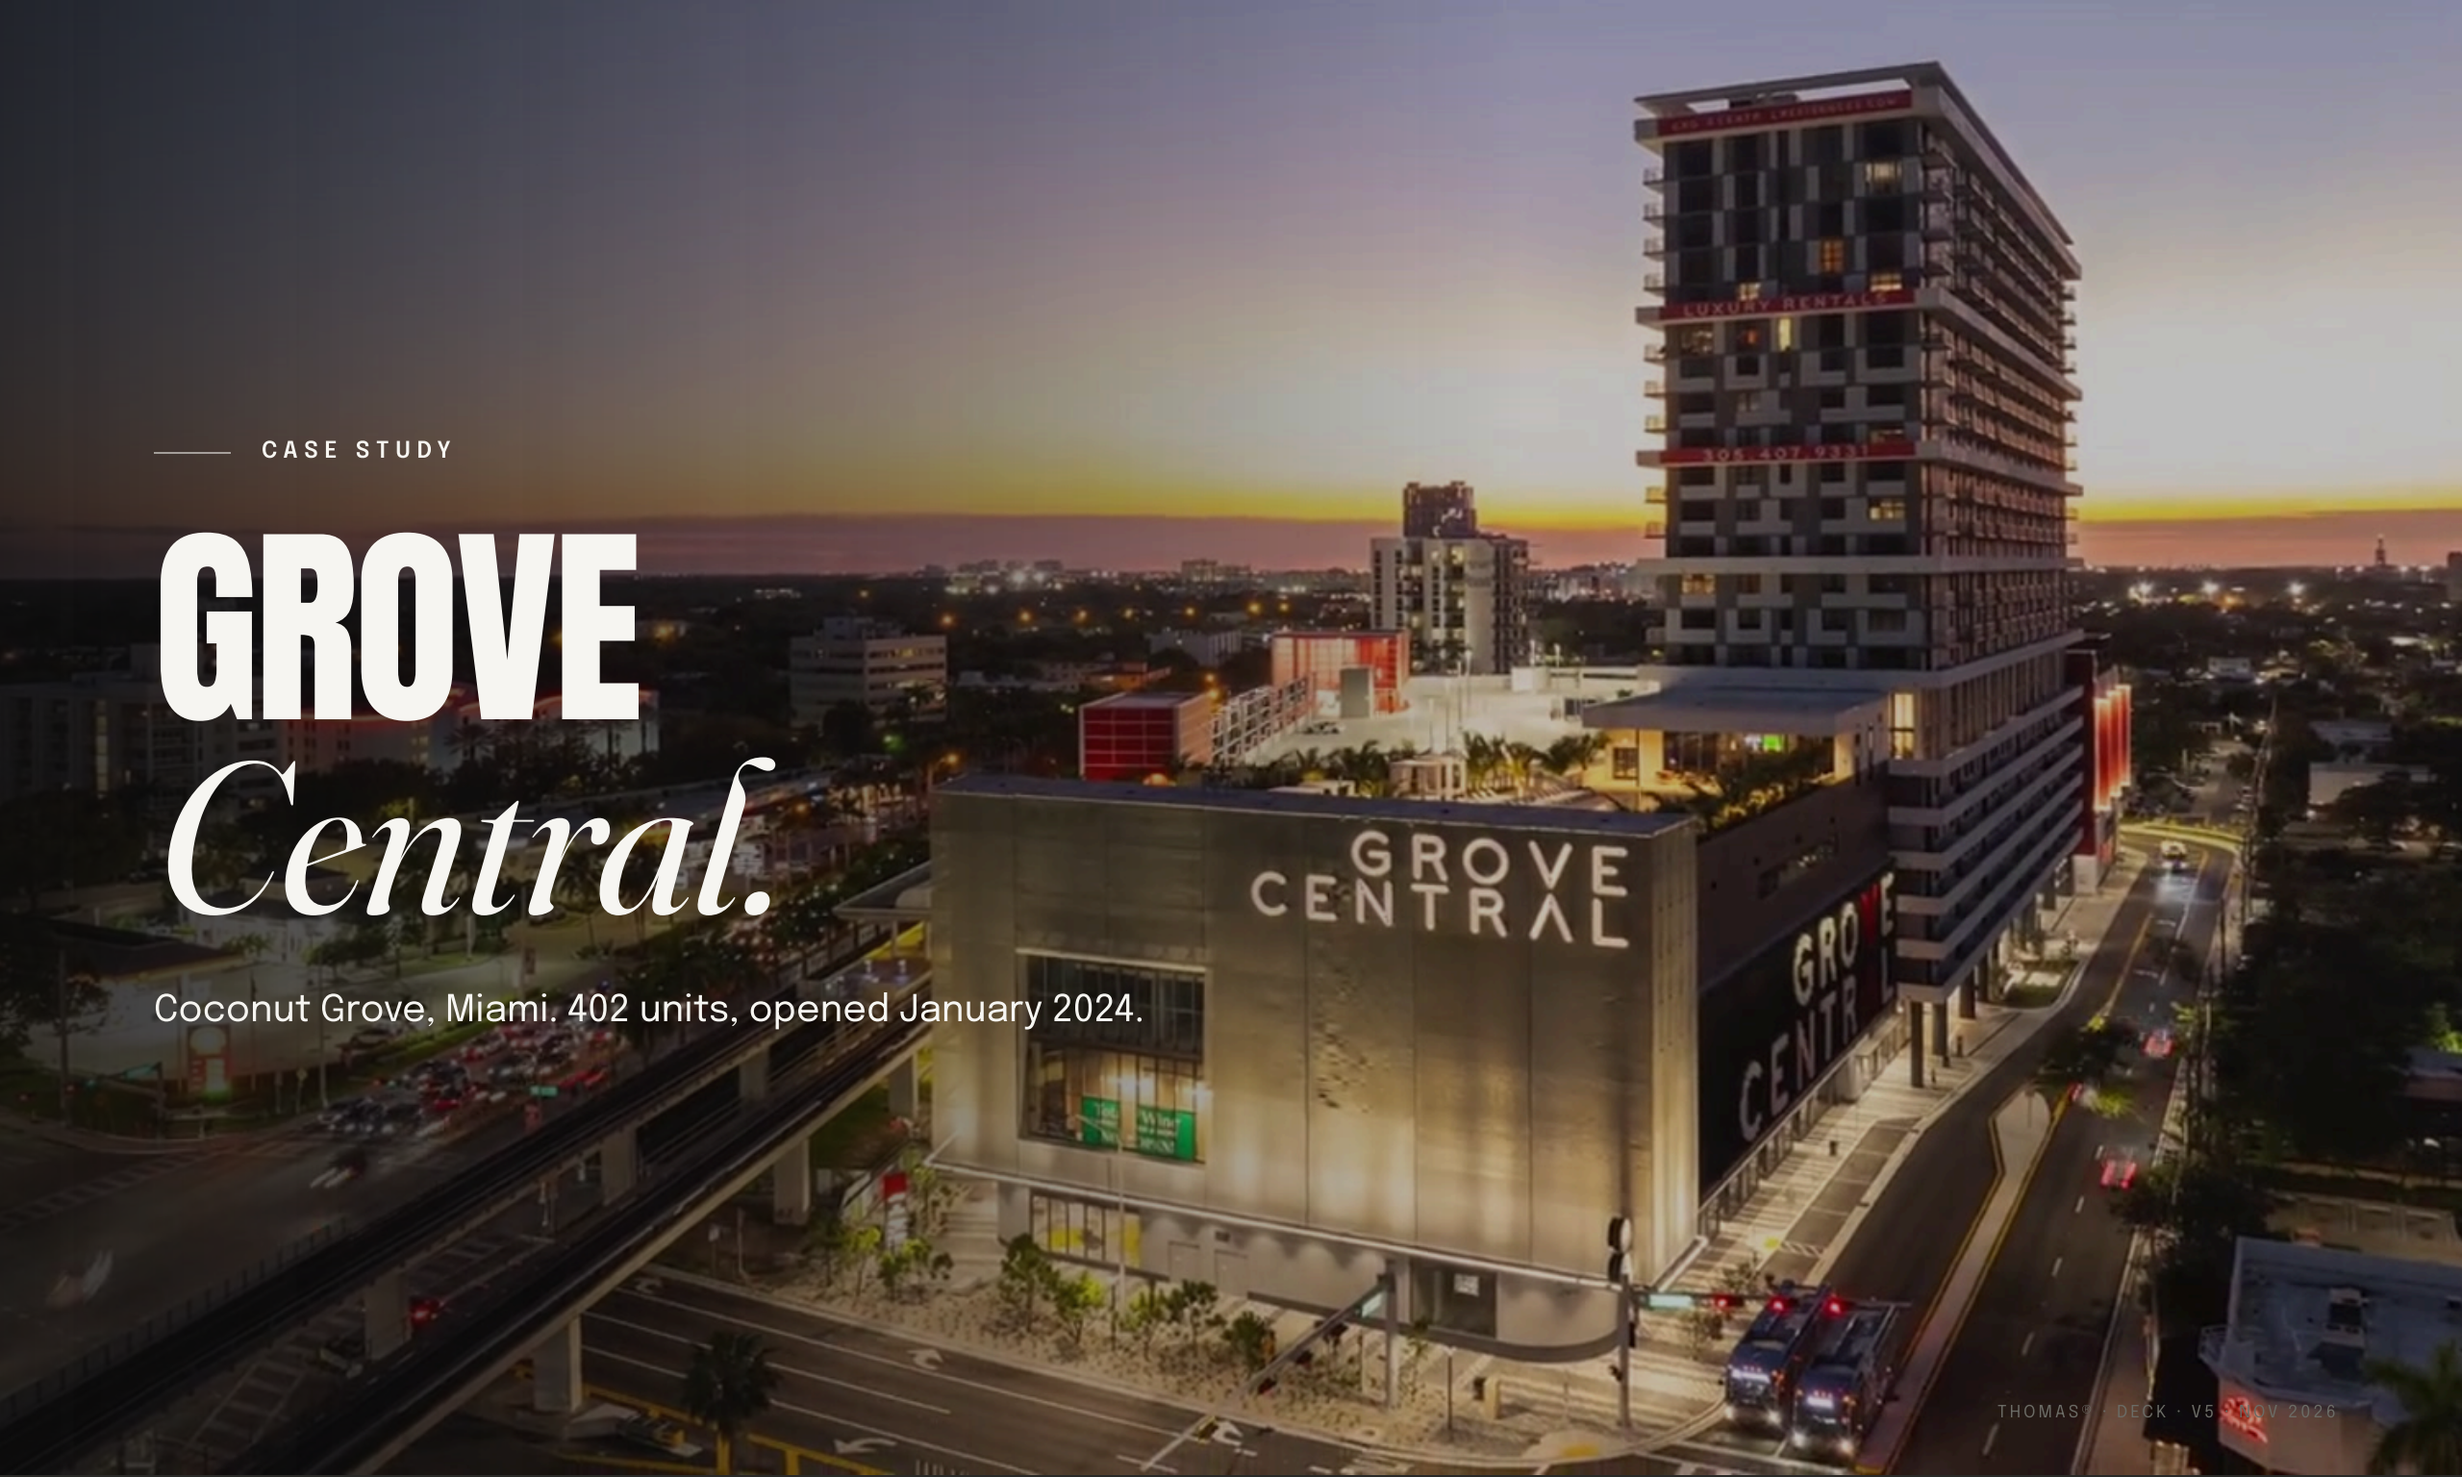

NOBODY OWNS IT

Everyone's job a little and no one's job fully, so it does not happen, or happens without a plan.

ONE SYSTEM, every community.

01	02	03	04
SHOOT IT	POST IT	MANAGE IT	REPORT IT
Photo, video and drone scheduled nationally, property by property, on the cadence each community needs.	Planned against each property's profile, checked caption-to-photo, approved by you, then published on schedule.	Comments and DMs handled where you want them, fair-housing aware, never touching the resident relationship without you.	Results roll up to the portfolio, so "how is social doing across our communities" gets a real answer.

When a property needs to move faster than organic, ads and lead tracking bolt on to the same system: same team, same content, your ad account, your budget, never marked up.

CASE STUDY

GROVE Central.

Coconut Grove, Miami. 402 units, opened January 2024.

FROM FEED TO full.

Grove Central opened 402 units above a Metrorail station, workforce and co-living units included, into a crowded Miami lease-up market. We ran content and social from before the doors opened, plus a small paid layer.

Greystar later reviewed its South Florida portfolio, found two buildings outperforming the rest, and went looking for what they had in common.

SAME SYSTEM.

Greystar handed us Metro Edgewater's social in May 2023: neighborhood-first reels and posts, plus a small paid layer feeding lead forms.

"I have used Thomas Productions at several lease ups and seen immediate and cost effective results."

STAGGERED BY PHASE.
Consistent everywhere.

A ten-property portfolio is not ten identical problems. Some communities are stabilized, some are leasing up, some are mid-renovation. The system flexes by property while the standard stays identical.

01

SIZED BY NEED

Lease-ups get the heavy cadence; stabilized communities run lean. Nobody pays for coverage they do not need.

02

START WITH A PILOT

Three to five communities in one market first. Prove it on your properties, then roll out.

03

ONE STANDARD

Same quality bar, same review step, same reporting at every community, each in its own brand.

WHO APPROVES WHAT POSTS?

You do, or whoever you assign. We build the content and the calendar; final say on anything resident-facing stays with your team.

CAN YOU MATCH OUR BRAND GUIDELINES?

Yes. Logos, colors, tone and voice per community, saved in each property's profile and applied every month.

WHO OWNS THE CONTENT AND ACCOUNTS?

You do. Every photo and video is licensed for your marketing; handles, ad accounts and data stay yours.

HOW FAST CAN A COMMUNITY START?

Crews are scheduled nationally within 24 to 48 hours. Photos back in 24 to 48, video in 48 to 72. Social can be live the first week.

DO YOU WORK OUTSIDE FLORIDA?

Yes, nationally. Home base is South Florida; the crew network covers every major U.S. market.

DO YOU TOUCH RESIDENTS?

No. We post, manage the feed and run ads. Anything resident-facing beyond routine DMs stays with your on-site team.

PICK A FEW COMMUNITIES.
We'll show you the plan.

A short call: we walk through what we would run on your properties and what to expect. The proof is below.
